Frankfort Legion Breaks Ground For Memorial Bldg.

Bobzin - Swinford post, American Legion, of Frankfort, has launched its program to build a Veterans Memorial home. Ground-breaking ceremonies were held last Saturday afternoon at the Legion owned site at Nebraska and Locust streets. This corner property squares out the Frankfort Community park.

Actual building operations will begin as soon as possible, it was announced. Excavating for the foundations will be started when weather permits. William Breidert is the contractor. Bobzin - Swinford post has never had its own quarters and the members are thrilled with the prospect.

At the groundbreaking Mayor George Sangmeister and Post Commander Larry Vaughn performed the initial spade work. While dedicated as a memorial to all veterans the building also will serve the post as its home.

It is to be of brick veneer construction, of contemporary architecture, one story in height with a basement. The building will have an overall dimension of 48 by 80 feet. The Legion post will have its meeting room about 36 by 48 feet in the basement; also a lounge there, 25 by 48, and there will be kitchen facilities.

agree, will meet a long felt need.

The building will cost between $45,000 and $50,000, it was said, and the money is available. The post has been saving money for this purpose for many years and has enough now, with a loan it has negotiated, to go forward with the plans. The post will continue to work on projects that will enable it to discharge the loan.

Bobzin - Swinford post was organized in 1946.

ISSUES!*Thru Personal Contact . . .
Representation For All

(Bill Barr continues with his policy of discussing specific issues confronting the Republican primary voters on April 14. He is the only candidate in the 14th Congressional District who is taking a positive stand on the issues . . . and affording positive answers to specific problems.)

"The social and economic complexities of the 14th Congressional District make close contact between Congress and the people a vital campaign issue.

"Thruout my campaign for nomination to Congress on the Republican ticket, I have pledged that I will hold bi-monthly meetings in easily accessible locations with the voters of the 14th District.

"Why are such meetings vital? Consider if you will the wide and diversified interests your Congressman must represent. This is a great industrial District . . . and a great agricultural one. This is a growing and prosperous District; however, one that has experienced and is experiencing normal growing pains.

Annually, local taxes climb on personal and real property. We are a collection of self-sustaining municipalities . . . and we have our share of pure residential areas. We have a mutual interest in transportation problems, highway problems, communications problems, water problems and each of us shares a part of the overall problems of the District. We have fine, locally supported school systems. We govern ourselves wisely at the local level thru our village boards and city councils and county board of supervisors.

"We share municipal problems . . . and each municipality has problems typical to itself. "Our taxpayers take great interest in participating in government at the local level. School issues are carefully thought out. New water and sewer systems receive top consideration from voters who want to make certain they receive a dollar's value for each local tax dollar they spend.

"But the fact remains that the lions share of each and every tax dollar goes to the federal government . . . and the Congress of the United States, thru your duly elected representatives, has the responsibility for spending that money wisely and with each individual's best interest at heart.

"Because of the complexities of modern government, with Congress in session nearly every day of the year, there has been a tendency for the people to drift away from their elected representatives.

"Since most of our tax dollars, yours and mine, are sent to Washington, it is imperative that we keep in close contact with the men to whom we delegate the responsibility for handling our money.

"Thruout this campaign, I have attempted to reach as many people in the District as possible. I have used every conceivable public media . . . newspapers, radio billboard signs.

"However, the most important part of this campaign has been public contact. A typical campaign day begins at 5:30 A.M. when we meet the commuters at railroad stations, serve them a cup of coffee and a dose of political philosophy . . . positive, Republican political philosophy.

"During the remainder of the morning, I walk the streets of towns in the District, meeting with the merchants and shoppers, continuing with our policy of positive discussions of the facts.

"It has been my pledge on the campaign trail to have a positive answer for every problem I know exists in the federal government. I have not felt it enough to say I am against something, without offering a solution.

"At noon, I lunch with a civic club, again taking stands on issues positive and to the point. During the afternoon, I attend neighborhood "coffee" meetings with the voters at the precinct level, exchanging views with them.

"In the evening, I speak to a dinner meeting and then, later, attend one of the numerous Republican candidates meetings held thruout the District.

"This is a hard schedule. It's a seven day a week schedule. And this hard work is paying off in the support that we are receiving from literally hundreds of Republican leaders and voting Republicans who believe that the Republican Party, and its members, must work hard to place positive Republicans in the White House and in Congress in November.

"Another hard campaigner, my father, the late Senator Richard J. Barr, campaigned the same way. His success was evident in that he earned 12 straight four-year terms to the Illinois senate.

"The problems Senator Barr faced, and the problems I face are the same. The methods are different . . . we have the "Coffee Barr" rather than the "Soap Box" . . . but the objective of meeting the people remains unchanged.

"I believe it is just as vitally important to remain in contact with the people following election as it is to contact them during a political campaign.

"Thru a return to the town hall concept of public meetings, meetings that are well advertised and held in convenient locations, I believe that a Congressman can remain in close contact with his constituents; keep them informed on how he is voting on bills that come before the Congress.

"More important, I believe the people can relay their desires to their Congressman . . . to tell him how they want him to vote on legislation that effects them.

"Legislation enacted by Congress effects the very security of our nation . . . the future and the security of your children and mine.

"I made my pledge of holding bi-monthly meetings in the District, with the voters, in early November . . . the same day I announced my candidacy. It is a pledge that I intend to keep.

"However, such meetings are not the only way to stay in contact with the people of the 14th Congressional District. As your duly elected Representative in Congress, I will remain as close to you . . . each and every one of you . . . as your telephone.

(Next week, Bill Barr Speaks on another of the issues confronting the voters of the 14th Congressional District when they go to the polls to select their Congressman on April 14.)

Village Of FrankfortOKs Apartment Zoning

When weather permits the XL Builders, formerly the Crest Line Apartment Builders of Mokena, will be ready to start work on what it hopes will be the first of 12 apartment buildings in Connecticut Hills at Frankfort.

At the regular meeting of the Frankfort village board Monday night the building firm, the McIntosh Co., and the village reached agreement on conditions pertaining to the multiple housing project and the village board approved the recommendation made earlier by the village zoning board to re-classify the property to permit that move. Before work can be started, however, the contractor will have to have building permits.

Connecticut Hills was originally zoned for single family residences. McIntosh asked for reclassification of two blocks along Lincoln Lane toward the west end of the development and just north of U.S. 30, so a builder could erect apartments there.

Residents of Connecticut

Hills opposed any change. The zoning board acted Jan. 30, approving the reclassification and turned its recommendation over to the village board Feb. 3. The board put considerable study on the question and retained Gene Baughman, head of the planning division of Tec-Search Inc., city planners, to look into the situation and give advice. Baughman pointed out that regardless of whether it was liked or not, multiple dwellings would be built in suburban areas in increasing numbers and he believed the proposed location of those in Connecticut Hills was right and the buildings themselves would be a credit to the community and not depreciate adjoining property.

He advised the board to accept the zoning commission's recommendation but suggested the village talk with the builders and developer. The board did and as a result entered into an agreement under which the builders will install curbing and a stone base for the street in front of the area set aside for the apartments. Sidewalks will be built when the building is ready for occupancy. The McIntosh Co. will include a provision in the deeds that will prohibit use of any of the property across the street to the north from being used for multiple dwellings.

The XL Builders is a firm made up of three men, two of them from Mokena, George Helgersen and Peter Ridderhoff. The other is George Schoon, of Lansing, Ill. They will build two of the apartments to begin with, according to Mr. Helgersen who has some apartments in Mokena. The structures will be a story and a half in height, of Colonial design, and of brick veneer. There will be four units in each building. Three of the apartments will have two bedrooms and the other will be a one-bedroom setup.

Later the village board in a joint session with the plan commission and the zoning board agreed to make arrangements with Baughman for his firm to aid the village in zoning and planning programs on an hourly basis. Later, it was said, it probably will be necessary to have a new and comprehensive plan drawn for the community. Such a plan now would cost the village $4,600, Baughman said, providing the federal government came up with $9,200 to round out the $13,800 such a plan would cost. He gave another figure for covering a multiple housing plan that would cost the village $3,500.

The board and the plan and zoning commissions believed the village will be better off to hire Baughman when a problem arises, for the time being anyhow.

New Lenox Girl Easter
Seal Child For Will Co.

Susan Killinger, six year old charmer from New Lenox, will reign as the 1964 Easter Seal Child of the Will County Easter Seal Society. Dr. J. Campbell Carey, Easter Seal chairman announced that Susan will be the representative of the more than 200 children and adults who received Easter Seal services at the Will County Easter Seal treatment center in Joliet during 1963.

Susan suffers a hearing loss and has been receiving speech therapy at the treatment center. An Easter Seal speech therapist explained the obstacles in developing good speech when a hearing loss was present. It was explained that new methods of treatment, the use of aids, lip formation and reading can lead to good speech and normal communication.

According to Margaret MacGregor, OTR, program director, "Susan is a very bright child and has shown excellent progress. It is particularly gratifying to be able to follow the actual progress of our Will county children and adults who are patients at the Easter Seal Center."

Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durward Killinger, of New Lenox, joins her brother in all activities at home and is assigned her normal share of household chores.

The Easter Seal treatment center provides direct services to children and adults suffering crippling conditions caused by accidents, birth defects, arthritis, cerebral palsy, erbs palsy, fractures, multiple sclerosis, polio, strokes, as well as speech disorders.

The Easter Seal treatment center is financed primarily by the annual Easter Seal campaign and is not affiliated with any other federated fund drive.

Mokena Fire Dept. Sets Party Dates

The main item on the agenda when the Mokena volunteer fire department met for its monthly meeting to fix dates and place for the annual dance and card party sponsored by the department.

The pinocle tournament is planned for Saturday, May 16 and the dance the following week-end Saturday, May 23. Both events are to be held in VFW hall on Wolf road.

A letter will be sent to all residents in the Mokena Fire Protection District pertaining to the two events with two tickets enclosed. Altho Mokena is now in a fire protection district, the money received thru taxation does not meet the needs of the department and the proceeds from the yearly dance and card party will be used toward everyday essentials and miscellaneous equipment.

Kenneth Warning, chairman of the fire prevention committee, states inspections are now being made of all business establishments, schools and churches in the fire district, which are asking assistance in checking the buildings against fire hazards.

The following four new members were inducted into the department on a six-months training period: Walter Lock, Charles Craigville, Donald Smith and Robert Matthews.

During the past month seven fire calls were answered; overheated furnace, two house calls, grass fire, utility pole fire and two inhalator calls.

PERCY VISITS STATEVILLE—Charles H. Percy, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in the April 14 primary, was an interested visitor at Stateville Penitentiary last Saturday. Percy was accompanied on the tour by editor-members of the Northern Illinois Editorial Assn., whose regional conference he had attended in Joliet as a distinguished guest. Terrier Owned By Mrs. Link Wins Prizes

Gemar's Sir Jamie, an 11-month-old Bedlington terrier owned by Beatrice Fee Link, Lincoln Estates, won first place and Best of Breed in the Stone City Kennel Club show last Sunday, March 15.

The show was held in the Exhibition building on the Fred Francis 4-H fairgrounds, New Lenox township. The blue Bedlington was shown by Gordon Link, Mrs. Link's son. Mrs. Link herself was unable to attend the show because of a number of meetings to which she was committed.

Mrs. Link, who is a member of the Lincoln-Way high school board, is now a candidate for delegate to the Republican state nominating convention for state representatives. Her campaign is confined to Will county as Will county is a legislative district in itself.

COUNTY LEGION COUNCIL
The Will County Council of the American Legion will be held at the Frankfort grade school tomorrow night (March 20) at 8. Posts from 14 towns are represented in the Will County Council, which meets monthly. The Auxiliary will serve refreshments at the close of the meeting.

A message to men who work in air-conditioned comfort

(and wives who'd like to)

You can have Whole-House Electric
Air Conditioning in the average
6-room home for as little as 50¢ a day.
(This includes maintenance as well as operating costs.) When hot, muggy weather makes you almost hate to leave your air-conditioned office for home, think how your wife feels. She's had to put up with this discomfort all day.

Nowadays there's something you can do about it. It's called Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning, and the cost is a lot lower than most people guess.

Public Service Company

ELECTRICITY IS SIMPLICITY

For instance, to have it installed in the average 6-room home usually costs from about $800 to $900.

Operating costs will vary, but 50¢ a day for operation and maintenance over a period of 120 days is close to the average.

Electric air conditioning is simple, doesn't require water. It adds to the desirability and market value of your home.

You get a lot besides cooling. Air throughout the house is crisp, free of excess humidity. A filter in the system removes dust, and up to 98% of the pollens, from the air.

To find out exactly what Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning would cost in your home, get in touch with the dealer, distributor, or department store nearest you. The contractor you choose will be glad to give you a free estimate and financing is easy to arrange.

Advice To Communities: "Plan Your Futures"

(Editor's Note: This is the third and last part of an article written by Dr. Harold M. Mayer, University of Chicago, noted geographer and planner, who has been retained by the Lincoln-Way high school board as an advisor to that body in the selection of a site for a proposed second high school for the district.)

By DR. HAROLD M. MAYER
The Lincoln-Way high school district is well located for possible location of industries, and the prospects for industries should be carefully considered in the preparation of a comprehensive plan as well as in the consideration of any public facilities which will serve the future population.

Industrial location can accelerate the population increases if it provides augmented employment opportunities in or near the area, or it can retard the increase if it is of incompatible types or if excessive amounts of land are zoned for industrial use. The optimal amounts of land to be reserved for industry, its locations, and the character of the industries whose location is to be encouraged, are all major concerns in the preparation of a comprehensive plan.

The advantages of the area for industrial location, upon completion of FAI-80, include (1) accessibility by expressway to all parts of the metropolitan area and to the network of interstate highways without the necessity to use other surface roads or city streets; (2) fast all-expressway access to downtown Chicago, to Joliet, and to O'Hare Field; (3) direct expressway access to major port facilities in South Chicago, northwestern Indiana, and Joliet; (4) commuter train service on the Rock Island to Chicago and to Joliet; (5) an adequate water supply; (6) open level land, and (7) availability of a labor force which is metropolitan wide, and especially of unemployed and under-employed workers from among the minority groups on the south side of Chicago.

There are, however, some disadvantages. The area is not on deep water, so heavy industries requiring water frontage cannot consider the area; any development must be based upon light or medium industries. There are many other communities, both within and outside the metropolitan area which are in competition for such industries, and there are far more available sites than there are industries to occupy them.

Thus the people in the district, in the process of planning, must determine their industrial goals. How should industries be promoted for the district? Or should they? (They should if there is to be a tax base sufficient to provide for the public facilities and services required by the population which will increase in any event.) How will the community receive, and adjust to, the in-migration of large numbers of people, to be employed by the prospective industries, especially when many of these in-migrants will most likely be members of minority groups, and when, in any event, the present residents of the district will inevitably form a minority of the total future population?

THE NECESSITY FOR COMPREHENSIVE PLANNING. - It is clear that the provision of any public facility, such as a new high school, should be related to a comprehensive plan for the entire district. Otherwise, costly mistakes may be made. The school should be located on a street which later may become a main access route to an industrial concentration. It may have excess capacity provided in advance of the requisite population and tax base. Or, contrarily, it may have inadequate capacity necessitating uneconomic and haphazard additions. It may be provided with a disproportionate number of classrooms for academic instruction and a deficiency of facilities for vocational instruction, or vice versa. With a properly prepared comprehensive community plan, based upon adequate research and a thorough consideration of the goals of the community, errors of this type can be greatly reduced.

As an integral part of the planning process, zoning, subdivision and other controls over the character, density and location of land uses should be instituted, and provision should be made for a popular procedure whereby expenditure of public funds for capital improvements can be scheduled for several years in advance in the light of anticipated revenues, and to avoid costly conflicts. The plan, once made, should be reviewed and revised frequently as conditions in the community change.

Adequate comprehensive planning should be regarded not as a cost to the community but rather as an investment, which will return many times its cost in the avoidance of costly mistakes, the more efficient scheduling of public improvements, and the development of a more efficient and generally more satisfactory community.

SUGGESTED PROCEDURE TO INITIATE COMPREHENSIVE PLANNING. - A portion of the Lincoln-Way high school district -- Frankfort and Mokena -- has initiated comprehensive planning. The plans for these communities, reviewed and up-dated, can be integrated into the process of planning for the rest of the district, perhaps with the assistance of the same consultants.

Preliminary to this procedure, however, it is suggested that the following steps be taken:

1. - Interested civic leaders and public officials of the district and the municipalities within it would receive much helpful advice from the American Society of Planning Officials which was created for this purpose. Communities and individuals with annual membership in this organization will receive its newsletters, can attend its annual meetings, the proceedings of which are published, can receive its advisory service bulletins and other publications, and can consult freely with the professional planners on its staff. This organization has been useful to hundreds of communities in the preparation and implementation of plans.

2. - The plans should dovetail with the plans of other communities nearby and throughout the metropolitan area, in order to minimize conflict and maximize coordination. An official regional planning agency exists for this purpose.

3. - Both of the above organizations can provide lists of qualified and experienced firms specializing in the preparation of comprehensive plans, and in the legal instruments for their effectuation, such as zoning ordinances and subdivision controls. It must be emphasized, however, that the planners cannot set the goals for the community. The people themselves, thru their elected officials and local civic organizations must determine the kind of community that is desired; the planners can then determine the feasible means of moving toward such goals.

4. - The community should take advantage of such financial aids as may be made available from state and federal sources. Most important is Section 701 of the National Housing Act, which provides that, under certain specified conditions, communities of under 50,000 population may receive matching funds from the federal government for the preparation of comprehensive plans.

KIND WORDS

As president of the Mokena Woman's Club, I wish to express the appreciation of the club members for the fine cooperation we receive from your newspaper. The amount of space given annually to our club projects is inestimable.

The Mokena Woman's Club is a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest group of organized women in the world.

Projects of the local club include the awarding of scholarships, the most recent being the Conservation Workshop Scholarship, to be used this summer by Miss Victoria Czepl of Sacred Heart high school maintaining and operating of the Happy Hour Kindergarten; monthly visits to the Tinley State Hospital; various fund raising projects; aid and participation in local community affairs and financial contributions to various charitable organizations.

I would also like to thank Mrs. Raymond Westlund, publicity chairman for submitting the news of our club in the local paper during the past year and thus enabling the public to know of our many activities and work. Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, president of the General Federation has declared that the General Federation of Women's Clubs had always strongly advocated the freedom of the press.

OUR 40th

ANNIVERSARY 1924-1964

A group of Homer parents met last Monday evening in an effort to organize scouting in this community. All boys of 8, 9 and 10 years of age are eligible for Cub scouts; 11, 12 and 13-year-olds may become Boy Scouts.

If anyone, especially men is interested and is willing to assist, please contact Don Aspel, TE 8-4758.

The next meeting is set for March 24 at 7:30 p.m. at Homer Community School.

Being involved in Scouting requires parents' participation and co-operation, but where else can you get so close to your son's world and share in his childhood dreams?

AGRICULTURISTS MEET
This evening (March 19) the Adult Agricultural class will meet in the cafeteria of Lockport High at 8 o'clock. The discussion will include research on new corn hybrids, and factors necessary for production of maximum yields of corn. Paul Gates and Henry Slade of DeKalb Agricultural Association will lead the discussion. Forty-three men attended the last meeting and all local farmers are invited. Slides will be shown. Chairmen for the day are Herman Pruefer and Bruce Anderson.

At a recent meeting of the Homer Town Board, Charles Trantina was appointed as clerk, to fill out the term of Clarence Wies who has resigned after several years of service on the board.

The Diaconate of Homer Church met last Monday evening. The main business item was the acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. John Hollister as superintendent of the Sunday School and the appointment of Mrs. George Burcham as superintendent and Mrs. Don Aspel as her assistant to fill out Mrs. Hollister's term of office, which she found it necessary to give up because of her husband's illness.

The resignation was regretfully accepted as she has been a faithful and efficient officer. Mrs. Burcham has proved her ability in leadership and will doubtless carry on in an able manner.

Ninety people were present at last Sunday's session and this will probably increase with the coming of summer.

There will be a Maunday Thursday service at 7:30 p.m. on March 26, when the quarterly Communion will be observed. There will be two church services, but no Sunday School, on Easter morning.

The last of the United Lenten services for the Lockport area will be at Fairmont Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. on March 22, with the Rev. Stanley Cox preaching.

Good Friday Union service will be at the Lockport Methodist Church on March 27 from noon until three o'clock.

The Missionary society of Homer Church will meet Thursday, March 26 at 1 o'clock at the church with Mrs. George Burcham and Mrs. Robert Burch as hostesses. Mrs. J.J. Paddock and Mrs. Stanley Cox will have charge of the devotional program. A "White Elephant" sale will be held and a box of clothing and household goods will be packed for a South American missionary family. Reports of the recent farm sales will be heard.

On Saturday morning, March 14, Brownies of Troop 362 were the guests of Girl Scout Troop 175 in Homer Church dining-room, at a special program in honor of Girl Scout Week. Mrs. William Champoux and Mrs. Bernard Morris are leaders of the hostess group.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott J. LeFevres of 167th and Parker Rd. are the parents of a daughter, born March 11 at Silver Cross Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Bumber, 143rd and Smith, have a new girl born March 11 at Silver Cross.

A family dinner was enjoyed at the George Burcham home Sunday in honor of the 14th birthday anniversary of their son, Bill. Out-of-town guests were the James Bethell family of Joliet.

HOMER SCHOOL CLUB

The regular meeting of the Homer School Club will be at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, March 19 (tonight), at the Homer Community School. Miss Fran Hine will present her entertaining demonstration entitled "Magic in Numbers." Also the "Pastels," a girl's singing group from Lockport High will furnish special music.

The Homer Fire Auxiliary is planning a Rummage Sale for early spring. Donations may be taken to the home of Mrs. Reed Burch on Cedar Rd. or call 838-4150 for a pick-up.

The annual Spring Luncheon of the Auxiliary will be held on Thursday, May 7, at the Fire House on Cedar Rd., with Mrs. Mary Morris as chairman. A White Elephant sale will be a special feature.

Doesn't Rule On Petition, Says Clerk, Just Files 'Em

Mrs. Clara Hartley Woodard, Will county clerk, today issued a statement to clarify the position of her office in connection with the recent attempt to have the question of a new county building placed on a special ballot in the April 14 primary election.

Mrs. Woodard said some persons evidently were mistakenly under the impression that she, as county clerk, had the power to place the issue on a ballot without reference to other authority.

She explained that the county clerk's office, under Illinois statute, is purely a ministerial office and that as such she did place on file the petitions submitted by members of the Democrat party in Will County.

The act of accepting petitions is part of the duties of her office under Illinois law, but the designation of a special ballot required that the county clerk obtain an opinion from the state's attorney who is the legally designated adviser to every elected county official.

It is not the duty of the county clerk, she added, to make any decision as to the validity of any petitions, nor indeed does the county clerk have any such power or right under Illinois law, Mrs. Woodard added.

The duty a county clerk has in connection with the filing of petitions is to accept them at face value, until such time as the state's attorney or court directs what action the county clerk shall take with respect

Deadline Near For Grain Sign-Up

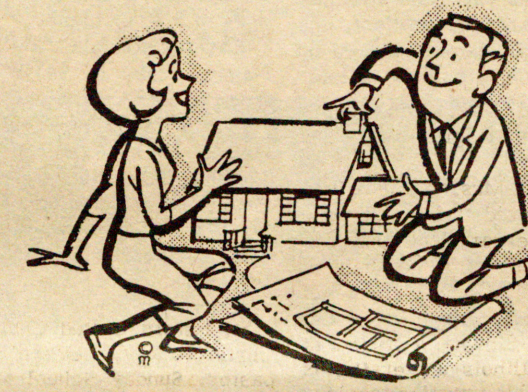

"Don't think it over too long," is the word passed along to feed grain producers by Roy M. Smith, chairman, Will county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee. He reminds growers who are interested in taking part in the 1964 feed grain program that filing an "intention-to-participate" form at the ASCS county office is a necessary step, and the sign-up ends March 27. This gives farmers only a few days longer in which to make up their minds about 1964 production plans.

Besides the diversion payments available in the feed grain program, co-operators also qualify for a special price support payment of 15¢ per bushel on the normal production of the acreage planted to corn in 1964. They are also eligible to put their crop under the price support loans or purchase agreements. If the farmer wishes, a part of the diversion payment may be made in advance.

How to save money on Long Distance calls

Long Distance offers a choice of bargain prices today.

Starting at 6 p.m. . . Long Distance rates are reduced on all calls—"station" and "person"—from 6 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. every day. These same rates apply all day on Sundays, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's.

Further savings at 9 p.m. . . Then, every day, rates on "station" calls to many points drop even lower. But, "person" calls cost the same after 9 p.m. as they do after 6 p.m.

Calls Outside Illinois—After 9 p.m., a "station" call to any point in the U.S. (except Alaska and Hawaii) costs only $1 or less, plus tax, for the first three minutes. Calls under 220 miles already cost less than $1 after 6 p.m., so there's no further saving after 9 p.m.

Calls Within Illinois—After 9 p.m., a "station" call within Illinois costs 50¢ or less, plus tax, for the first three minutes. Here, there's no further saving on calls under 54 miles. They already cost less than 50¢ after 6 p.m. These rates do not apply to collect, credit card calls or calls charged to a third number.

For any Long Distance information...check your directory, or ask your Long Distance Operator.

School Costs, Like School Population, Keep Going Up

More than a billion dollars a year are being spent on public schools in Illinois and there is no doubt but that the figure will grow substantially as birth rates continue to climb, State Supt. Ray Page told Will county school administrators and board members on Wednesday night of last week.

Page was the principal speaker at the 15th annual dinner meeting sponsored by the Will County Principal and Superintendents Association, which was held in the ballroom of the Joliet Masonic temple. All of the public schools of the Lincoln-Way high school district were presented by administrators and board members.

Guests were introduced by County Supt. Verne E. Cracker. Dr. Gayle N. Hufford, chairman of the education department of Lewis college, gave the invocation. The Plainfield high school senior chorus, directed by Robert L. Hills, sang.

Page said the aim of educators in Illinois was to provide better education for all the children of all the people of the state.

Speaking of the climb of costs, Page pointed out that public school enrollments increased 52 per cent in the period from 1952 to 1962 and educational costs have gone up 158 per cent from $422,216,579 in 1952 to $1,089,140,213 in 1962. Local taxes spent on schools in the period rose from $317,630,328 in 1952 to $789,333,539 in 1962, a jump of 148 per cent. State distributive funds have passed the $165-million mark, a gain of 20 per cent.

There "might be" a downward trend in school population beginning five or six years from now, Page said, but in the meantime one can expect to see enrollments and costs keep growing.

Page stated that Illinois is well ahead of other states in mapping out a program to solve the drop-out problem. He added that the Vocational Education Act of 1963 will give young people more opportunities.

The state school head announced that beginning July 1, County Supt. Cracker will be on the state certification board of teachers.

Page was introduced by Dr. William H. Blatnik, superinten-

Young Speedster Wrecks Car Fleeing From Police

An Orland township youth was taken into custody Thursday night by Frankfort police chief, Francis Simon, after a chase at high speed that ended when the car struck a culvert on U.S. 45 about four miles south of the village and was disabled. Simon said that afterwards the boy, Robert Arnold, 15, of 16901 S. 108th ave., admitted that he had gotten up to a speed of 105 m.p.h.

Two girl passengers, one 14 and the other 15, escaped injury, as did the youth.

The car had been taken from the Plaza Shopping Center in Orland Park where it had been parked by the owner, Martin Moore, of 10258 Hilltop, Orland Park, according to the police report. Moore had been planning to leave on a vacation Monday, traveling by car. With the car a wreck he has had to change plans. The car was valued at over $3,600.

Chief Simon's attention to the car was drawn when it came speeding south on a one-way northbound street in Frankfort, without lights. The chase wound back and forth thru the village and finally reached U.S. 45. The driver ignored two stop signs, the chief said, and came to grief when he attempted to turn onto Stunkel rd., off U.S. 45. That was when he hit the culvert.

When the car came to a halt the boy escaped on foot, the chief said, but was picked up an hour and a half or so later by State Trooper Robert Wood along U.S. 45. The girls were turned over to their parents and the boy turned over to Orland Park police, who in turn, because of his age, gave him into the custody of his parents.
